CHAPTER VI.

A big man, past middle age, and strated aside a small white horse, came, picking his way between the huge beech and maple trees, down through the quiet morning of the woods. He had shaggy red brows, and a big mouth that drooped at the corners. The little eyes, flashing sideways in search of the blaze on the trees, were sharp and calculating. Where the ridge sloped to the valley he reigned up.

"Must be somewhere about here," he mused. "Don't know how I can miss seeing McTavish if he happens to be outside—land knows he's big enough to see—hello! who are you?"

Something animated in the shape of a boy had stirred from a log directly in the path. Leaping out it stood before the rider—a boy with long yellow curls and big brown eyes. The white horse shied, and the boy rocked backwards and forwards on the path, voicing low, plaintive sounds. As the rider watched him a small animal crept from the thicket and climbed upon the lad's shoulder. The horse reared, and the boy, lifting his brown arms, began to wave them to and fro. At the same time he broke into a wild, tuneless chant, the words of which were unintelligible to the wondering observer. I was a shrill, weird note, fluted and varying like the call of a panther. Suddenly boy and animal vanished as though the Wild had reached forward and gathered them into its arms.

"Heavens!" shuddered the man, and struck the horse sharply with his spurs. Where the trail curved off abruptly to the valley he reined up once more and turning about, looked on.

"Well I'll be shot!" he soliloquized. "No matter where you find the Creator's handwork and beauty you'll find His imperfections too. Ugh! how those big eyes did probe me! It's enough to make a saint shiver, let alone a chap who has clung up as I have—not caring who I've tramped on."

He shivered again, and felt in his pocket for his pipe. His hand brought forth a yellow wallet. A hard smile warped his mouth as he opened the wallet and drew out a small photograph. It was the likeness of a young woman with sweet face and great eyes. He tapped the likeness and a lock of brown hair leaped out like a snake and twined about his finger. He brushed it back with a shudder, and, snapping the case, put it back in his pocket.

"I'll find that big McTavish and get this deal closed," he mused as he rode along.

The horse stumbled and a groan whizzed along the trail, passing close to the man's head, with a thundering nerve-cracking sound. He sat erect and sank his spurs into the old gray's heaving flank.

"Get upp, you lazy old bag of bones," he commanded. "Let's find that big innocent and get hold of his dead. We'll give him a dollar or so to see us back along that lonesome trail. I wouldn't go back along the spooky path for all of old Hallibut's money. I've seen enough snakes and wolves and bears since two o'clock this morning to last me a lifetime. And that last animal—that crazy boy!"

He dashed the old mare into a faster walk and sat huddled up and pondering until a twist in the path brought an open glade into view. The buzz of a saw and the pant of a weary engine came to his ears like welcome music.

"To the right," he chuckled. "Let's see, Bushwackers' Place lies just across from it. But there's the creek, Guess I'll have to ride down to the narrows."

Finally, with much grumbling, he reached the farther side of the creek, and, pulling in his horse, he gazed about him.

"Ha, look at that for timber!" he exulted. "And to think that Smitty and I will have control—"

He did not finish the sentence aloud but sat nodding his head up and down. Very soon he drew up before the long log-house. Big McTavish stepped out and pointed to a log-building in a grove of butternuts.

"Put your horse In there," he invited.

"I will, and more," agreed the arrival. "I'll enjoy a bite of bread and a slice of dried venison or anything else your larder affords. I'm hungry as old Nick."

"You're welcome to the best we have," replied McTavish. "You're Mr. Watson, I suppose. Am I right?"

"Watson I am—Robert W. O. Watson, that's me. I'm pretty well known through these parts; that is to say, better maybe a little east of here. This place is kind of off the map, you know. Just give the lazy skates any thing that's handy," he growled, referring to the patient steth that stood with drooping head and sanctimonious air, "but you needn't be in any hurry to feed her. She's Smitty's horse and used to waiting."

"I always see that my oxen get their meals same as I do," said big McTavish. "I wouldn't feel just like eatin' unless they had their fodder, too. Well, step inside and I'll have Goss fix you a meal. She's down at the spring now gettin' the cream ready for the churning, but she'll be back direct."

As they crossed from the stable a small form fitted by them and vanished among the trees. Watson gasped and he clutched McTavish's arm.

"That's him," he cried, "that's the crazy boy I met a couple of miles away. How did he get here so soon do you suppose?"

"Oh that's Daff Davis," smiled McTavish. "Nobody knows exactly when he'll turn up. He runs like a deer and is as shy as the wild things he plays among."

"Plays among," repeated the other.

He followed McTavish into the house and sat down heavily on a stool.

"What do you mean by 'plays among'?"

"I mean that he moves among the wild things and they are not scared of him same as they are of you or me or anybody else. They do say that he can fondle the cub of wild and wolf-bairns. I've seen him playin' with a big snake myself—not a poisonous one, of course. Seems as though Davis can pick out the things that are harmful quick enough. Nobody pays any attention to him much in the city—

Place, but he's got his box to himself, knowing that God'll protect the soul He didn't give much reasonin' power to."

"Humph," grunted the other, "I see a jester man and McTavish."

"McTavish's God-fearing and honest. Good plan to work along that line. Had a good bringing up myself. Mother's prayers, early-teaching, and that sort of thing have a lot to do with making a big man. My mother is largely—I should say was largely—responsible for my success. She's dead now, poor old lady. Of course, a fellow who climbs has a right to climb up your mind. I can see, to swap this forsaken wilderness for a piece of cultivated land," he said, abruptly opening the subject nearest his heart and fixing on the big man his little pig-eyes.

The Married Teacher

No Reason For Prejudice Against Employment of Married Women

It should have been needless, but it was probably wise, for the Carnegie Foundation, by the report of a distinguished committee of educators, to denounce in strong terms the remaining prejudice against the employment of married women as teachers.

Says the committee: "There is probably no work in which marriage and a normal home life could contribute a qualification more essential than they could to teaching. The woman teacher is too often a detached public servant in a class apart. If married and a householder having children, she becomes a vitally interested and respected factor in society."

A part of the old prejudice against married teachers took root in the silly cry: "Let them stay at home, and give the girls a chance!" Such sacrifice of the skilled veteran to the beginner was unwise at any time. It is simply ridiculous now, when hundreds of thousands of children have no teachers at all, and other hundreds of thousands but inefficient substitutes. Yet in how many cities as in New York, are there traces of the old feeling even in the formal rules of Boards of Education—New York World.

War Criminals

Germany Does Not Give Much Indication of Keeping Faith With Allies

The second subject taken up at the Spa conference does not require much time. Germany herself suggested the Leipzig tribunal for the trial of Germans accused of war crimes. This was a striking departure from the original idea that the perpetrators of outrages should be handed over to courts in Allied countries. France took less interest in the punishment of war criminals than she did in the matter of disarmament and organization, but the British Premier made a strong point of it in the Paris conference and in his speeches in England.

The Leipzig plan seemed to many an abandonment of the whole cause, but it would at least show whether Germany of today approved the methods of the Empire and the former rulers' and officers. In accordance with the program Britain and France sent forward a list of accused persons including some officers, in high command in the army and navy, certain subordinate officers, officials who had control in occupied districts in France and Belgium, and commanders of German prisons. Particulars seem to have been furnished in at least forty cases.

The German minister of justice states that none of the accused seem to have been arrested. He gives various reasons, none of which seem to be good, except that some of the alleged criminals are dead. No doubt it is true that some have left the country, and no doubt others will follow; if they are warned that the case is likely to be prosecuted seriously. Mr. Lloyd George with characteristic bluntness, remarked that the Germans were breaking their word in regard to this Leipzig plan proposed by themselves. The plausible and adroit foreign minister replies with strong assurance that the Allies pretend to accept.

We do not suppose that anybody expects these prosecutions to come to much, but the manner in which they are conducted or abandoned will be an excellent test of the present-day faith of Germany—Vancouver Province.

Honor Roll of Farmers

Saskatchewan Grain Growers Will Commemorate Their Sacrifice in Great War

(From the Toronto Globe)

Five hundred and sixty-seven young farmer members of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association—all of whom volunteered for service in the Great War—were killed in action.

In a unique and fitting manner the executive of the association proposes to commemorate their service and sacrifice.

After some months of deliberation, during which several proposed forms of memorial have been under consideration, the executive has decided to adopt the pictorial Honor Roll, submitted by James Henderson, of Fort Qu'Appelle, a western artist of considerable note. This Honor Roll will take the form of a remarkable painting comprising a series of pictures which tell in chronological order the story of the war. The first represents Britannia with her trumpet calling her sons to arms. The second shows Jack Canuck hurriedly leaving his sheaves in the harvest field as the call comes to him. The third reveals him on the British transport en route to the fighting front, while the fourth exhibits him in action, "going over the top" into No Man's Land. The fifth and sixth scenes are linked. One pictures "the rows upon rows," the half-ruined graves in Flanders Fields; the other the news of final victory received by Canadian homes. In the centre of the picture is a scroll upon which the names of five hundred and sixty-seven members of the association who gave their lives for their country are inscribed. The painting will be over four feet high and some ten feet in length. It is to be hung on the east wall of the central hall of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association on the upper floor of the Farmers' Building in Saskatoon.

The service of the gallant young farmers who sleep yonder near the fields of their glory does not end with death. Today, tomorrow, and in years to come, when the prairies of the Canadian West open their arms to the Canadian citizen, the thrilling story of their patriotism and achievement, looking down from the walls where grain growers and an inspiration to those who come after.

The Value of Trees

One Square Yard of Leaf Surface Purifies Great Amount of Air

It has been calculated that a single tree is able through its leaves to purify the air from the carbonic acid arising from the respiration of a considerable number of men, perhaps a dozen, or even more. The volume of carbonic acid exhaled by a human being in the course of twenty-four hours is put at about 100 gallons, but scientists estimate that a single square yard of leaf surface, counting both the upper and the under sides of the leaves, can, under favorable circumstances, decompose at least a gallon of carbonic acid in a day. One hundred square yards of leaf surface there would suffice to keep the air pure for one man, but the leaves of a tree of moderate size present a surface of many hundred square yards. All other forms of vegetable life act similarly in abstracting the noxious carbonic acid from the atmosphere.

Benefit for Soldiers

Extend the Time in Which to Apply for Gratuity.

Provisions that will prove of great benefit to returned soldiers, their widows and dependents, are contained in two orders-in-council just passed by the government, endorsing certain important recommendations recently submitted by the parliamentary committee on re-establishment.

The first order-in-council extends the time in which a man who served overseas may apply for his gratuity, the time originally set as the limit in which he might apply was July 1, 1920, but this has been extended to March 31, 1921.

The payment of the dependents' portion of the war service gratuity to widows of deceased soldiers is authorized for the first time in the second order-in-council.

Arrangements have been made by the British government to liquidate the debt of $100,000,000 to Argentina. It is proposed to make this payment by meeting periodically the interest on Argentina's external debt held in London. The July 1 payment has been made and Great Britain has already liquidated half of her debt, which was for payment for cereals, by paying off obligations amounting to $50,000,000 which Argentina owed United States bankers.

The Liquor Referendum

Voters on Plebiscite Will Be Asked to Give Definite Answer "Yes" or "No"

The Canada Temperance act, commonly known as the Scott act, will be voted upon on October 25, in the Yukon Territory and the provinces of Alberta, Ontario and Nova Scotia, and possibly one or two other provinces. The vote will be on the question whether the province-wide Scott act shall be adopted and thus prohibit the importation or conveying of liquor from other countries or other provinces into the provinces adopting the act. It will be a definite yes or no and one question only. Alexander Smith, barrister and election authority in Ottawa, points out that "the lists to be used will be the lists to be provided under the new Dominion Election and Franchise act, as this act has repealed the War-Time Election act and other federal election laws of unhappy memory."

The Sinn Fein Movement

Is Certainly Doomed to Failure On Account of Its Origin.

The widespread effect which the Sinn Fein propaganda has had upon certain sections of the public in the United States is attributed to "intoxication of the intellect" by Commissioner D. D. Irvine, of the Society for American and British Friendship.

Mr. Irvine, in a statement on the Irish question, declared the Sinn Fein wedge is being hammered in "by the wielders of the mallet of disruption" in an effort to cleave apart the United States and Great Britain. Much labor, oratory, advertising and finance is being spent on this ignoble enterprise," he says. "Yet with the brains to direct, agencies to co-operate and gifts to finance the mad effort will be futile."

After likening the movement to "a frothy sea hammering with great display the granite portals of a coast," and predicting that the storm will soon settle down, Mr. Irvine continues:

"It seems essential for the world to get drunk on something. There are mental portions that set the brain on fire and, in this intoxication of intellect, reason staggers from her throne, logic lies in the stupor of false deductions and conscience sleeps the sleep of senseless stupidity. Sinn Fein is a dangerous stimulant for the Irish temperance. A few prohibition laws for this mental drunkenness seems essential for the safety of the rest of the world."

"Sinn Fein is doomed. Nature dooms it. It is a cross-over of species born of Home Rule and lawlessness. Nature debars perpetuation of this type and the hybrid is barren. Sinn Fein is a kicking mule which will live the allotted span of kindred movements and then die, and in death its name ends. Every kick brings it nearer its end. Let it kick, but keep away from its heels and hold the bridle taut. In the circus of natural freaks, Sinn Fein is the trick mule which for a time is holding the attention of the crowd, while clever clowns use the beast for acrobatic antics for financial gains."

"Some movements attract strange followers. Freak movements always fascinate brains without breeding and breeding without brains; money without character and character without money. Sinn Fein is no exception. It lures the unthinking, it dupes the thoughtless, it fascinates the bad and deceives the good. But when the awakening comes keep the gangway clear for the rush ashore from the sinking ship will be a spectacle to behold. We will see it one of these days! Live awhile and see the fun."

This is to certify that fourteen years ago I got the cords of my left arm which was for about one month that I had a sore on my arm and tried other liniments also doctors, and was receiving no benefit. By a persuasion from a friend I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and used the bottle which came in a box and have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family ever since and find it the same as when I first used it, and would never be without it.

To Make Paper from Straw

Million Dollar Pulp Mill to be Erected in Southern Saskatchewan.

W. R. Phillips, of Toronto, Ont., is at present making a preliminary survey of Southern Saskatchewan, with a view to the establishment of a million dollar paper mill. Large financial interests in Toronto are behind the project.

Thousands of tons of waste straw in the province is to be the material utilized in the manufacture of the product.

As to the success of such a venture, Mr. Phillips is most optimistic. A plant already in operation in eastern Canada has proved most successful, while in the United States there are several mills in operation. Experiments have shown that a ton of paper can be manufactured from two tons of straw, while two tons of coal would be necessary for power, the paper could be turned out at a considerably lower price than that now charged for the pulpwod product.

Five great enemies to peace dwell with us, namely: Avarice, ambition, anger, envy, and pride. If these enemies are banished we should enjoy perpetual peace.

W. F. Kerr Resigns Editorialship of the Regina Leader to Engage in New Work.

Mr. William F. Kerr has resigned as editor of the Regina Morning Leader, a position he has filled for eighteen years, to accept the post of Red Cross Commissioner for Saskatchewan, to which important office he was appointed at a meeting of the Saskatchewan Red Cross Executive on July 13, presided over by His Honor Sir Richard Lake, Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. Kerr is thus made the chief executive officer of the Saskatchewan division of the Red Cross Society and upon him is placed full responsibility for carrying out and administering the peace-time program of that organization in the Province.

The covenant of the League of Nations places upon all governments which are signatories to that covenant the duty of establishing, on a sure foundation, the noble work of the Red Cross. Formerly active only in time of war, it is now to continue its work in time of peace, and in the words of the League of Nations' covenant, "to encourage and promote the establishment and co-operation of duly authorized voluntary national Red Cross organizations, having as purposes the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world."

Mr. Kerr is entrusted the task of carrying out this program so far as the Province of Saskatchewan is concerned.

Moslem Fellow Citizens

Are Only Effective Friends Turkey Has in Asia.

The Turkish state is disorganized, bankrupt, beset with enemies from within like Mustapha Kemal, with potential enemies from without. She will need the active support and encouragement from her friends, in Europe and in Asia, for a generation at least. The only real friend Turkey has in Europe is England. Some of those countries which have been passing as the particular friends of the Sultans have been governed by self-interest and the desire for exploitation. The only effective friends Turkey has in Asia are the Moslems of India. Working together, England and India can stand staunchly by Turkey and help her over the dangerous road which she must traverse to restored health and strength. If the Moslems of India antagonize England, they rob Turkey of a truly friend in Europe. If they set India in a turmoil and themselves go to voluntary outlawry, they will destroy their own power of helping Turkey.

The Oil of the People. Many oils and fats are good. Dr. Thomas' Electro Oil continues to maintain its position and increase its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and kept it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Thousands have benefited by it, and we use no other preparation.

Smoking Bad for Aviators.

Air ministry doctors in Great Britain have instructions to inquire into the family histories of persons who desire to become aviators especially with reference to tuberculosis, heart disease, or mental instability among their relatives. Smokers are closely questioned, and the doctors are to make a report such as C10 or F3—that is, ten cigarettes or three pipes a day.

A Fine Record

17,640 War Veterans Are Working for the C.P.R.

Every C.P.R. employee enlisting for war service was told that "his job would be waiting for him when he came back." Up to June authenticated statistics show that 11,018 C.P.R. men joined the forces. Of these, 1,096 were killed in action or died of wounds or sickness while with the colors; 2,084 were incapacitated by wounds, leaving 7,838 presumably available for re-engagement in the company's services. Some of these, however, re-enlisted with the permanent forces; others chose to remain in England or former other business connections. The remaining 6,914 are all again working for the company. In addition to thus establishing its own man-power contribution to the war requirements, the company since the armistice was signed has employment for 10,726 other returned soldiers not previously on its payroll and now musters 17,640 war veterans—enough to form a complete army division of four brigades. All lines of the Canadian National Railways system gave up 5,000 odd men, about 50 percent of whom have been re-established.

NOURISHING FOOD AND GOOD HOURS

Help You to Resist Disease—Aid These With a Tonic to Keep the Blood Pure

The power of your body to resist disease and to fight it after disease gains foothold is one of the most important possessions you have. To weaken this power when you let your general health run down, your general health runs down, your health goes down and your nerves need steady.

You weaken it when you worry, when you over-work, when you do not get sufficient sleep, and when you are under-nourished, either because you do not eat the right kind of food or because your digestion is out of order.

You preserve your power to resist disease when you keep good hours and eat proper food at regular intervals. You further increase and strengthen resistance to disease when you build up your blood and nerves by the occasional use of a tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are free of aspirin and contain a dozen of any kind. The value of these pills as a health builder is fully shown by the experience of Mrs. E. C. Taylor, Hanover, Ont., who says: "At various times I have been sick and given up all sorts of remedies, but I have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At that age I was in a much run down condition, suffering from many of the well known symptoms of anaemia. My mother procured a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I took one a day for half dozen boxes I was restored to normal health. Again after my marriage, and before my boy was born, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were not taken, but I had a bad cold and they met all my expectations and fully restored my health. My latest experience with these pills was following an attack of pleurisy, which left me completely broken in health. A doctor of the city of Hanover, who were two of the best, told me I was beyond help. I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I took one a day and they met all my expectations and fully restored my health. Vegreville Editor Tells About
How He Used to Work on Farm

The high cost of labor this year is causing the farmers considerable concern. Some men arrived in town early in the week and put forth a modest demand for $7.00 per day with a proviso of "no chores." We can readily imagine how the farmers to whom this humble and lowly wage was mentioned would fairly sweat blood at the thought. Figured out on a monthly basis it would come to $8175 per month plus board which means an added $50 at least making the remuneration upwards of $225 per month. This, be it remembered, is for one man only, not a gang of men.

As one farmer said to us—"By Golly—this is the first crop I have had in four years and I hate like blazes to give it all away in wages."

Now, working in the harvest field is by no means a snap but on the other hand it isn't a man-killing job. It is steady, not particularly hard, and anyone whose muscles are once farm trained can get away with it easily enough.

We hear 'em say—"What does the Observer know about it?"

Well, we know all about it. For several seasons the writer pursued the honorable calling of a harvest hand on Manitoba farms and had a piece of everything connected with it, except riding the binder—our bosses invariably selected the easy jobs for themselves. But we have stooched—set 'em up again after a rain—pitched sheaves—loaded—fed separator—handled sacks—bucked straw—and hauled grain from the separator to the elevators which last job was by long odds the best that ever came our way. As a starter in the morning just to get up a good breakfast appetite, we milked a few cows at 4:30, fed some calves, slopped the pigs, curried off a couple of teams and then had breakfast, all refreshed and invigorated by our contact with the brisk morning air. Work ceased at dark, whenever that happened along, but if a fine, full harvest moon was benignly smiling down on the scene we didn't bother ceasing at all. When we did quit, there were the cows, the pigs, the calves and the horses still to receive attention.

There was, the days of real work, and the stipend was $40 per month net per day.

We forgot to mention that the first and only dose of what the soldiers euphoniously call "scram" equaled or exceeded equaled to us while with a threshing gang. In our innocence we nearly dug through to the bone before it dawned on us that we were the involuntary host of a multitude of most prolific gray backs.

It is, of course, natural enough that wages for farm work should go up in keeping with everything else. But $7.00 per diem, with no chores is indeed hitting the high spots. We are strongly tempted to close this joint up for a month or so and go out to get some real money.

Why They Failed.

There was a terrible slaughter among the innocents at the late departmental examinations. This slaughter was not confined to Vikings by any means but is provincial-wide so there is no more blame to be attached locally than elsewhere. Hon. Mr. Smith, minister of education, expresses himself as being horrified by the examination results and he has ample justification for his horror.

It was said at the time that the examination papers this year were, notably fair. On one or two of them the parties who set the papers pulled off some "boners" but in the main the papers were very equitable and within the reach of the pupils attempting the work of the several grades, providing these pupils had been properly taught and also providing that the pupils themselves made an honest effort to cover the work; this latter proviso is by far the more important.

It is possible to scrape up a lot of trifles for the failures. The influenza epidemic is one; there are others of similar import. But no excuse avails in many cases.

As the Edmonton Bulletin sagely remarked the other day—"We are living in a pleasure-loving age"—and there can be no doubt about it that the pleasure-loving and pleasure-seeking of parents and citizens in general has communicated itself to the school children in a virulent form. In scholastic work, pleasure-seeking is as fatal to progress as any influenza epidemic.

The price one pays for an education is work. There is no royal road to the acquisition of knowledge.

It is true that some really honest workers failed to make the grade; but for the most part failures at the examinations are due to negligence, indifference, carelessness and the desire of the children to have a good time rather than do their school work.

Citizenship Certificates.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17 (Canadian Press)—The issuance of certificates of Canadian citizenship is a new departure decided upon by the Dominion immigration department that is expected to be of great convenience to Canadians who go abroad or even cross the border into the United States.

The certificate is in the form of a small card bearing on one side a photograph of the individual to whom it is issued, and giving such information as the name, date of birth, and birthplace of the holder. All that is necessary for applicants to do to secure a certificate is to supply the department with a small photograph and proof of Canadian citizenship.

It is believed that holders of these certificates of citizenship will find them very useful for purposes of identification even within the confines of the Dominion, as they would doubtless be accepted by banks and other business institutions.

More or Less Funny

Now that it is vacation time it is interesting to note how various people enjoy themselves. One of our citizens returned from his vacation last week and on being asked how he enjoyed it, said: "I spent a day and a half going to a place where I would have nothing to do, spent one day doing nothing, three days with a headache from doing nothing and a day and a half getting back to where I could do something."

One of the local young barbers, not a married one of course, was calling on a young lady one evening last week and while trying to keep up the conversation which was dragging somewhat, he mentioned that he was a good story teller. He said: "I can tell a story that will hold a person from start to finish." "All right," she murmured, "tell me a good one and don't let me fall."

Comment on Current Events

The last week of June and the first few days of July were prolific in important changes in the political life of Canada, and in some respects these were but indicative of the unsettled state of politics generally throughout this and other countries. Union Government, which was brought into being through the efforts of Sir Robert Borden as a war administration late in 1917, having fulfilled its destiny, has passed away; Sir Robert Borden has laid down the responsibilities of the premiership, and these have been placed on the younger shoulders of Hon. Arthur Meighen, who is not only the youngest premier Canada ever had, but also the first man from west of the Great Lakes to achieve that high office. His Government will be representative of the new political organization which succeeds the Conservative and Unionist parties in Federal politics and which has been named the National Liberal and Conservative Party. In addition to Sir Robert Borden, Hon. N. W. Rowell and Hon. Martin Burrell retire from the Government; consequently, the first test of the strength of the new administration with the public will come with the election of the new ministers to be chosen.

A second change of moment was the resignation of Sir Lomer Gouin from the premiership of Quebec, an office he has held for the past fifteen years, and a longer period than any of his predecessors. Sir Lomer's resignation was the first any marked change in the Quebec Government. He is leaving political life to engage in the activities of business, commerce and finance, and is succeeded in the premiership of Quebec by one of his former cabinet colleagues, Mr. Taschereau.

Even more significant of prevailing public opinion in Canada today was the result of the Manitoba Provincial elections which has created in the oldest of the prairie provinces a situation somewhat similar to that existing in Ontario. Of the four largest groups in the next legislature, —Liberal, Farmer, Conservative and Labor, —no one commands a clear majority in the house. Followers of the Norris Government constitute the largest single group, with Labor second, Farmers third, and Conservative fourth, with few Independents in addition. The Norris Government will carry on with the support of certain of the Farmer and Independent members, while Labor will probably constitute the official opposition party.

The Manitoba elections were also noteworthy by reason of the fact that for the first time in Canada the system of Proportional Representation was applied in a Parliamentary election, the city of Winnipeg electing its ten representatives by that method. All parties seem agreed that it was a marked success and gave general satisfaction. With ten members to be elected out of a list of 41 candidates nominated, and with 48,000 ballots cast, the new system was given the hardest test yet applied to it in any English-speaking country, and the successful outcome would seem to point to its early adoption throughout Canada.

ment of people on the question of New Brunswick referendum is of interest. Two questions were submitted to the electorate: (1) Whether the prohibition laws should be retained, importation stopped, and a bone-dry condition created, or (2) whether the sale of wines and liquors should be permitted. By a vote of three to two, the people declared against the sale of wines and liquor, and by a two-to-one vote emphatically recorded their preference for absolute prohibition of the traffic in intoxicants for beverage purposes.

While the people of Canada have thus been engaged in their own political affairs in the United States the Republican and Democratic parties have adopted their platforms for the presidential elections next November and named their candidates. A clear-cut issue on the Peace Treaty and League of Nations is now presented to the American people, and the voters will themselves decide the issue, the Republicans bitterly condemning the acts of President Wilson at the Peace conference, and the Democrats upholding the League of Nations as necessary for the future preservation of the peace of the world. While not concerned in the essentially domestic policies of the United States, Canadians will follow with keen interest the struggle for and against acceptance by the United States of a place in the League of Nations and as a co-partner with the other civilized peoples of the world in maintaining the highest international ideals.

Saskatchewan is generally associated in the mind with cold weather and wheat. It is surprising to learn, therefore, that it leads the Canadian provinces in horse population, there being a total of 1,078,000.

The Oldest Living Thing

Huge Cypress Tree Said To Be 5,000 Years Old

A huge cypress tree in a church-yard near Santa Maria del Tule, in Southern Mexico, according to scientists, is the oldest living thing in the world, being between 5,000 and 6,000 years old.

This age is based on the gigantic bulk of the tree and the slow growth of the species. The figures mean that when the seed from which the tree sprang fell upon the earth King Menes was holding the first reign in Egypt of which we have any historic knowledge, 3,000 years before the birth of Christ.

Humboldt discovered the tree more than 100 years ago. He nailed the tree a wooden tablet containing his autograph and, although it is now partly hidden by the subsequent growth, the autograph is still legible.

CONSTIPATED CHILDREN

Children who suffer from constipation, indigestion or any of the other ailments due to a clogged condition of the bowels will find prompt relief in Dr. Williams' Own Tablets. The Tablets are a fine but thorough laxative which can always be depended upon to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They are absolutely safe and can only be safely used by children from opiums or other injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. Thomas A. Boutot, Lake Baker, N.B., writes: "I am pleased to state that Baby's Own Tablets were of great help to me when my baby suffered from constipation." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Overcrowding of the Earth

Estimated That In 170 Years From Now Maximum Population, Will Be Reached.

According to the statistics, the population of the world cannot go on indefinitely at the present rate. It has been estimated that if it does, then we are near the end of our tether. In about 170 years from now the maximum population that the earth can support will be reached!

The only country at the present time that is reasonably living within its assets of land is France, for to double her population requires 433 years. If the present rate of increase of the population of the world is maintained (supposing such a thing possible), then in 2,000 years from now the population would be twenty-five times greater than it is now.

Saw Possibilities In Experiment

Liverpool Dockmaster Evolved Principle of Modern Lighthouse

Sometimes during the latter part of the eighteenth century a scientist of London made a wager that he would read a newspaper by the light of a "farthing dip" at a distance of 30 feet. To do this the scientist merely coated the inside of a shallow box with sloping pieces of looking glass so as to form a concave lens, put his farthing dip into the box and readily deciphered the small print at the stipulated distance. The experiment was witnessed by a Liverpool dockmaster. He was a thinking man and saw great possibilities in this learned jest. He straightway adapted the principle to lighthouse requirements and forthwith the modern reflected light with its mile of range and greatly multiplied the life-saving powers sprang into being.

Don't Hawk, Blow, Sneeze, or Cough Use "Catarrhozone"

When germs attack the lining of the nose, make you sneeze and gasp—when they infect the bronchial tubes, how can you follow them with a cough syrup?

You can't do it—that's all. Cough syrup goes to the stomach—that's why it fails.

But Catarrhozone goes everywhere—it gets right after the germs—kills them—heals the soreness—cures the inflammation—makes Catarrh disappear. Not difficult for Catarrhozone to cure, because it contains the essence of nine balms and other antiseptics that simply mean death to catarrh. Large size costs $1.00 and contains two months' treatment; smaller sizes 25c and 50c, all drugists and storekeepers.

Pulp Mill for Port Arthur

Provincial Paper Mills Will Spend a Million and a Half on Undertaking.

Port Arthur will be the scene of important developments in paper manufacture when the plans are completed of the Provincial Paper Mills, Limited, Toronto, who have just been incorporated. About $1,500,000 is estimated to be the amount to be spent in Port Arthur. The plant, which occupies 140 acres in the city of Port Arthur, has turned out about $2,000,000 of sulphite, which has been sold in the United States, chiefly in Wisconsin and Minnesota. It is now intended to complete the product into paper on this side, with a mill to turn out forty tons a day. With the expenditure of $500,000 on the mill, absorbed by the new company, these productions will be increased.

Want Board Reappointed

Canadian Council of Agriculture Decides to Take No Further Action in Political Organization.

Winnipeg.—The Canadian council of agriculture concluded the business of its annual meeting by deciding after long discussion, to take no further action towards political organization than that provided for last January by which organization is to be carried out on a provincial plan.

The principal subject discussed was whether there should be a central co-ordinating committee to take charge of a political platform.

A formal resolution was passed requesting the federal government to immediately reappoint the existing Canadian wheat board for the purpose of marketing the wheat crop of 1920.

J. R. Howard, president of the American Farmers' Bureau, addressed the council on the object of the co-operative marketing program of this organization. He said they aimed to eliminate the brokers. He invited the council to send representatives to a conference to be held in Chicago, on July 23 and 24, the object of which, he said, was to make the mid-west states a power on the Canadian board of wheat marketing.

An application has been received from the United Farmers of Nova Scotia for membership, so that now the council is composed of representatives of the farming organizations of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

MAY PROHIBIT COAL EXPORT FROM CANADA

STATES WILL BE EXCEPTED

Conservation of Fuel Supply In View of the Almost Certain Shortage Next Winter.

Ottawa.—It is understood that as the first step towards conservation of the fuel supply, in view of an almost certain shortage next winter, the railway board will, in the near future, issue an order prohibiting the export of Canadian coal, excepting to the United States and Newfoundland.

It is also understood that the order will prohibit the bunkering of ocean going vessels at Montreal with American coal. This practice, it is stated, has resulted in the serious depletion of stocks of American coal brought to Canada. After the issuance of the order, it will be necessary for vessels to bunker with coal which is the product of Canadian mines.

At a conference of the members of the railway board, the coal situation was given preliminary consideration and it is anticipated that measures other than these will be evoked to conserve the fuel supply. Seen after the conference, Chairman Carvell said he had nothing further to announce at present.

Expert Issues A Warning

Preliminary Methods of "Mining" Soil Will Soon Lead West to Disaster.

Winnipeg.—Warning against the "mining" of Canadian prairie lands by "get-rich-quick" settlers who take abundant crops for a few years without re fertilization of the ground, was sounded at the conference here of the commission on conservation of soil.

"The fate of this nation depends chiefly on the fertility of its soil," declared Prof. Hanson, "and our soils are rapidly losing their basic strength in organic matter and nitrogen. We must seek immediately to correct this."

"One of the problems which confronts us is drift land, due to lack of soil fibre. Land drifting is causing as much loss in some districts in the west as rust and insects."

He outlined the results of the preliminary experiments and tests being made in Manitoba to determine proper methods to prevent drifting. "While this work was far from completed, the result of the work already done," Prof. Hanson said, "led him to believe that the bromo grass was the easiest method of returning the fibre to the soil."

"Farming under irrigation has been practiced in all parts of Canada and the United States profitably and should be encouraged," he said.

"Carelessness in cultural methods was asserted to be undoubtedly the greatest existing curse to agriculture in Canada," said Dr. J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture.

In his analysis of conditions of the Canadian prairies, Dr. Grisdale stated the causes for the gradually decreasing yield in bushels per acre from the cereal crops would appear to be: prevalence of weeds, lack of fibre in soil, poor moisture conservation and poor cultural methods employed by the farmers.

Among the remedies suggested were the introduction of certain hood or cultivated crops in some parts and quick maturing crops in other districts, together with better cultural methods to aid in weed control.

Will Greet Overseas Editors.—The agenda for the empire press conference at Ottawa, August 5, 6 and 7, provides for addresses on the first day by the governor-general and premier and discussions on the empire press and the execution of an empire parcel post system.

Winnipeg.—The meetings of the commission of conservation in soil fertility and soil fibre which has been session here were conducive of much profit. Western Canada's future agricultural welfare and advancement, which impelled the conference to be largely dependent on the activities of a permanent committee on research appointed by the commission as the result of the two days' deliberations.

Prompted by the urging of soil and cultural experts from all parts of the Dominion, who discussed the needs of the west, and offered suggestions for betterment of soil conditions the commission adopted a resolution at the final session which it was believed would result in carrying out the plans tentatively formulated.

The committee of experts which is to proceed under the auspices of the commission and with its support "will continue and co-ordinate work which has been started on experimental farms, try out and compare methods of applying knowledge already possessed; seek other and new methods of benefit to the practical operation of farming; to obtain the best advantages."

This committee consists of T. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture of Canada; Prof. John Braden, principal of the Manitoba Agricultural College; W. G. McMillan, superintendent of the Brandon experimental farm; Prof. E. S. Hoopkins, of Olds Agricultural; W. H. Fairfield, superintendent of the Lethbridge experimental farm; Prof. G. H. Cutler, of the University of Alberta, and F. C. Nunnick, agricultural adviser of the commission on conservation, who was named secretary of the commission.

Prof. G. H. Cutler, Edmonton, in an address on "Choice of Crops and Soil Productivity," urged immediate reclamation of the land areas devastated through lack of proper fertilization. Improvement needed in seed condition in Canada was pointed out in an address by H. L. Newman, Ottawa, secretary of the Canadian Seed Grain Growers, who urged for immediate action.

"Canada," he said, "requires each spring about 100,000 bushels of wheat to sow and plant her fields."

Opium in Egg Case

Mounted Police Discover Avenue By Which Drug Was Being Shipped to West.

Ottawa.—The accidental discovery at Papineauville, Que., a few days ago by the Canadian express authorities of a quantity of opium which was consigned to Calgary, has furnished the Canadian mounted police with the avenue by which they believe quantities of this drug have been shipped to the west during the past few months. For some time past a Chinese restaurant keeper at Papineauville has been in the habit of consigning one, two or three cases of eggs at a time to a fellow celestial at Calgary. There had been no suspicion attached to the shipments until one day last week when one of the cases of eggs forming part of a shipment, was found to be leaking. The express company officials reported the broken case and when examined the case was found to contain opium.

In the meantime, the consignor apparently got wind that the jig was up for he had disappeared. The investigation is going on and the consignee is also being sought.

Hon. P. E. Blondin takes the same position that he held in the cabinet under the government of Sir Robert Borden.
